Who is a sponsor?

A sponsor is any government agency, business, embassy, foreign government, CSU department, third-party trust fund or other non-related entity that agrees to pay for all or part of a student’s expenses while at Colorado State University.

Colorado Opportunity Fund (COF)

The College Opportunity Fund (COF) provides a stipend to eligible Colorado resident undergraduate students. The stipend pays a portion of the student’s base tuition. Additional information is available at the CSU Registrar’s Office: http://registrar.colostate.edu/students/tuitionfees/definitions.aspx

Eligible undergraduate students must authorize the payment of the stipend to their Colorado State University student account each semester.

Unless the sponsor provides a specific billing authorization for the payment of full Base Tuition, we will only bill the sponsor for the Student’s Share of tuition and not the state-funded portion for which the student is eligible to receive a stipend.

How do I submit my request?

- Have your sponsor complete and sign a Sponsor Billing Authorization Form.
- Or
- The sponsor may submit an official letter or other authorizing document. The document must define:
  - Student full name
  - CSU ID
  - Period covered
  - Maximum amount of coverage
  - Types of charges covered or not covered
  - Billing address of sponsor
  - Contact person and phone number

My sponsor will pay for my books. How does the Bookstore get this information?

When a sponsor authorizes billing for books, the Accounts Receivable Office will forward your name, student number and authorized amount to the Bookstore approximately two weeks before the start of the semester. Prior to purchasing your books, you should contact staff at the book information counter on the west side of the Bookstore. The Bookstore staff will explain specific purchasing procedures.

Should I send my statement directly to my sponsor?

No, keep it for your records. Your account will be credited when your sponsor’s authorization is received. After registration closes for the semester, an invoice will be sent to your sponsor for payment.

I am a Graduate Assistant. How do I receive tuition credits?

In most cases, your department will notify the Accounts Receivable Office. After notification, a transfer of charges will be posted to your account with a description of “Transfer to Third Party sponsor”. Contact your department if the expected credit has not been posted.

What happens if I have more than one sponsor?

You may have multiple sponsors. However, the CSU Sponsor Billing Program will bill up to, but not exceed, 100% of qualified, approved charges.

In cases of multiple sponsors, you may decide which sponsor pays for charges and how much they should pay (up to the amount authorized by the sponsor). You must contact the Accounts Receivable Operations at the above address if you have special instructions.

What happens if my sponsor does not pay all or part of the billed amount?

The student is ultimately responsible for all charges incurred at Colorado State University. If your sponsor does not pay an invoice as billed, CSU will notify you and request assistance in contacting the sponsor. If payment is still not received, the unpaid charges will be transferred back to your account. You will then be responsible for paying the charges as defined by the CSU Billing Statement.

Is there a charge for this service?

Yes. Due to increased administrative costs for this special billing service, a nominal mandatory charge of $50 (Sponsor Billing Service Charge) will be assessed each term to all sponsors that have requested direct billing. If the sponsor is unable to pay this charge, the $50 will be billed directly to the student or if the sponsor does not pay the charge as billed, the charge will be transferred to the student’s account.
